Polution on Mars

This work originated from the same landscape as the Delta works. I have made an infinite horizon here and added more red. This gives you a kind of Mars landscape. Pollution on Mars is called this work, with the waste containers leaking radioactive waste. Quite topical one-way ticket to Mars necessary pollution.

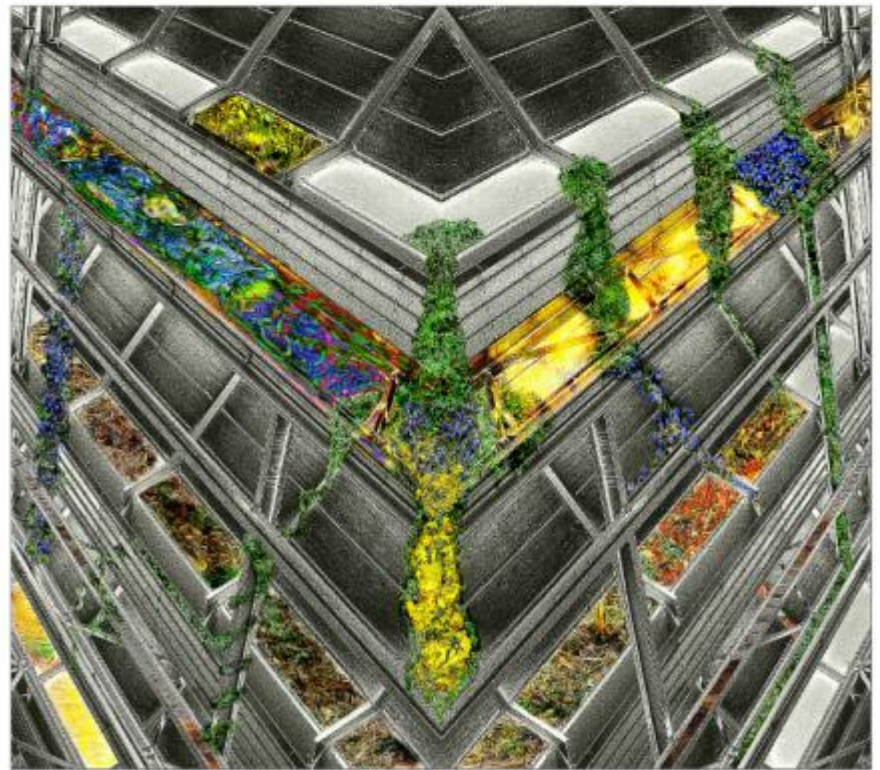

Garden of Babylon

The Gardens of Babylon, the base photo the ceiling of a factory.

Maskerade

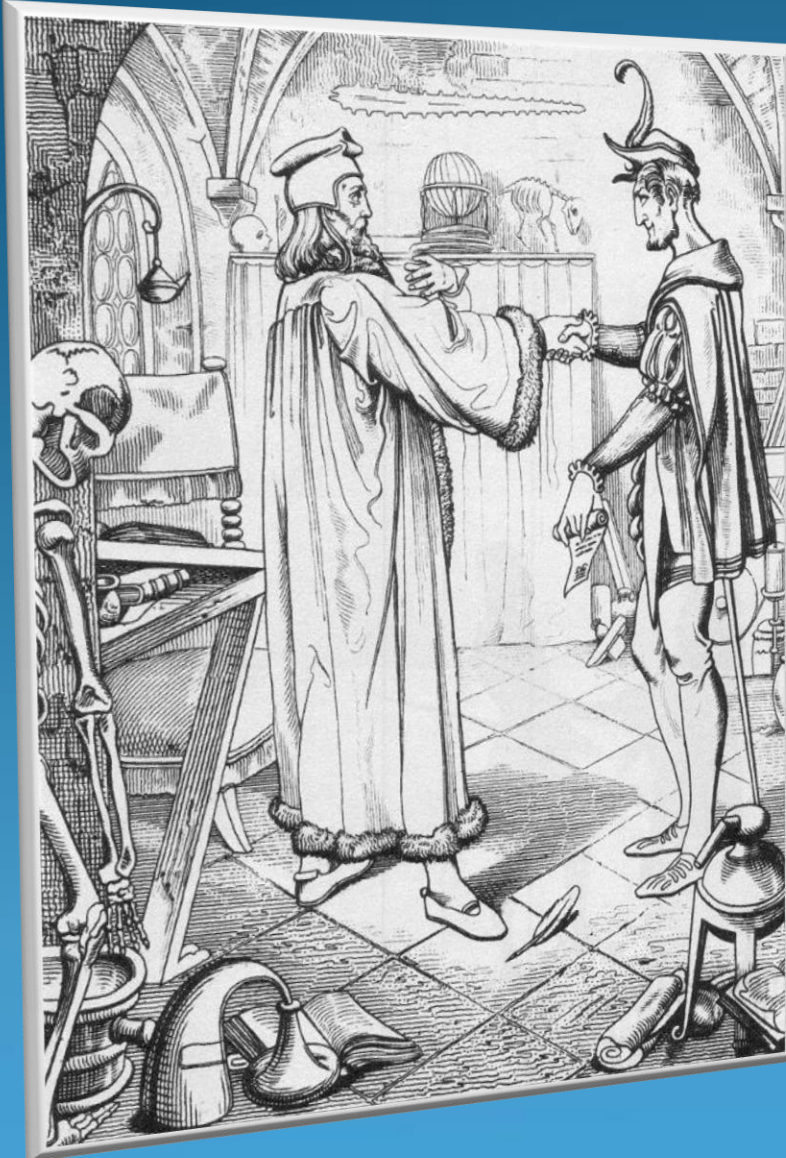

Maskerade originated from a photograph taken in the Amsterdam market at Albert Cuyper where a market buyer sold his scarves. These heads need him to sell his scarves better for the shoppers.

Embrasure

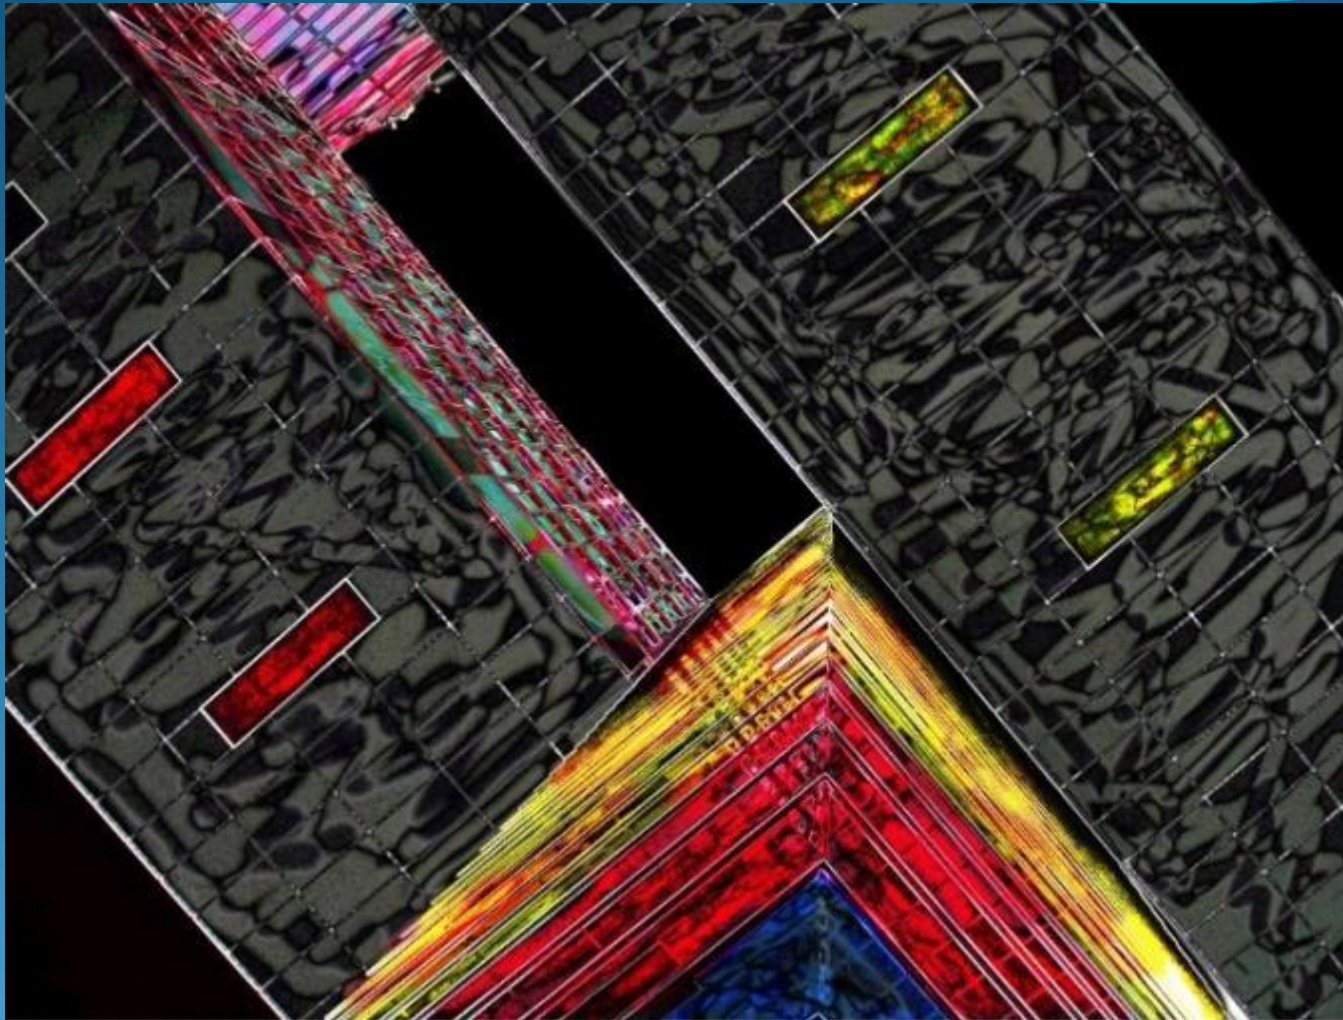

“ Kranhaus”

I have made twenty pictures for this recording.
This is shown in the direction as above on the overview picture.
The direction of the arrows indicates the angle.
This way of photography gives you a different perspective,
you see more in the picture than you normally see.
Because I took a number of pictures behind the field of view,
you get a bigger viewing angle.
